

Family Reading Tree

Dear Parents:

Students in education continually show that better readers most often come from families who enjoy books and reading together. With this in mind, a Family Reading Tree will be displayed during the month of February. Those families who read together 15 minutes per day (either silently or aloud) will have their names posted on a leaf of the tree. A special award goes to the children whose families participate for an entire month.

If you would like to participate in the program and encourage your child to become a better reader, please set up a quiet time each evening to enjoy books with your child. Then return one of the completed forms at the bottom of this page by your child each Friday.

I hope you enjoy this special time with your child and see some positive results! I look forward to seeing new interest in reading.
