

November 2021 Issue

Harrington School Newspaper

Contact us: hmspawprints@mtlaurelschools.org

Advisor - Mrs. Poulton
Layout Editor - Finn Waldorf

It is the holiday season and November is the month to be thankful! And while you might be thankful for that awesome video game you have or that pool in your backyard; being surrounded by family and friends is even more important. The people in our lives make this month super special for us. And of course we can't forget eating delicious foods! So now let's be thankful that our Paw Prints - November Issue, is here!

Deaf Culture at Harrington

By Henry N.

The question begins like this: what's that blinking device in the person's ear in front of you?

That, my friends, is a Cochlear Implant. Being deaf can be the greatest gift ever. Such as not hearing the madness of your parents, a dog barking or construction and sleeping in absolute silence. No annoying background noise.

Actually, I can't think of anything bad about being deaf. But, you asked, and I shall tell. Read on.

What does it do?

Excellent question! It helps a person with a disability of deafness, deaf meaning in several things such as:

- Hard of hearing, meaning you have little hearing but rather worse than a person with hearing
- Deaf with a capitalized 'D' means Culturally Deaf; where you speak American Sign Language (ASL), speak with other Deaf people and do not use any mechanical hearing devices.
- Finally for the last one deaf with a lowercase 'd' means; Cannot hear, having absolutno access to hearing without a hearing device.

What is a Cochlear Implant?

Well a Cochlear Implant is a device that is a magnet with a computer chip underneath your skin behind your ear performed by an otolaryngologist. Then there is a wire connecting your chip to the cochlea (Snail Like Shell) which is behind the ear-drum and the wires circulate the cochlea helping the nerve cells to produce “hearing”.

What are some ways to communicate with a deaf person?

First thing, if the person wears a cochlear implant, say their name. Make eye contact when speaking with them. If they use an FM system, speak into the FM system. Since the pandemic has hit, communication has become more difficult for deaf people, especially when wearing masks. These few tips can help to make communicating with your peers easier. Some students might even have an interpreter or intervener that will facilitate communication if it is noisy or your friend can not hear you.

Teacher Talk

By: Paw Prints Staff

November is the perfect time to reflect on what makes Thanksgiving so special to us all. This month we set out to find out what makes Thanksgiving for some very special HMS teachers. We are “thankful” that they took the time to answer our inquiries.

Questions:

What is your favorite Thanksgiving menu item?

What is something that you are thankful for this year?

What is your favorite Thanksgiving memory?

Mrs. Tirico

1. Sweet potato casserole (with lots of marshmallows)
2. The people I love are healthy
3. The year the inside of my “cooked” turkey was raw. I never cooked another Thanksgiving turkey again :)

Mrs. Schlett

1. Thanksgiving dinner is my FAVORITE dinner! I love all of it...turkey, mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, stuffing, gravy, broccoli casserole, and cranberry sauce.
2. I am thankful to be back in school with all of my students and for all of the quality time I had with my kids at home this year.
3. Every year after dinner we switch the Thanksgiving tablecloth to one for the winter holidays, give all the kids matching holiday pajamas to put on, and build gingerbread houses!

Mrs. Wireback

1. Stuffing with gravy!!! I don’t like turkey, so I just eat lots of stuffing :)
2. I am thankful for my family and my wonderful students.
3. The ONE time my mom let me make the turkey...and it was halfway decent.

Mr. Corrado

1. I love homemade stuffing.
2. Time with my family...especially now that my son is away at college.
3. Football games with old friends from high school early morning before getting together with family.

Ms. Gillen

1. Stuffing
2. Family and friends
3. Cooking Thanksgiving dinner and dessert for the family.

Top 10 Things That Don't Get Enough Thanks

by K.T.G

Gobble gobble Thanksgiving is right around the intersection, and everyone's gonna give thanks to food and money and all that other muchsense, and yeah, of course y'all would thank that stuff, because it's really important to each and everyone of us. But there are some things that are crucial to us, and nobody's thanking them. So here's a list of things you HAVE to thank this year. Or not, I'm not your mom, I can't tell you what to do.

Producers

These are the people that make all the movies and T.V. shows we all love to binge.

Saliva

Kinda gross, I know, but it helps us taste the snacks we love enjoying.

Corn syrup

It's technically not a food, but it makes everything taste delicious.

Decorations

Without them, Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas just wouldn't be the same.

Hair

Some animals would look horrendous if not for their hair.

Needles

Though they do hurt a bit, we wouldn't get properly vaccinated from diseases that would hurt us even more.

Typhoid fever

It is evil, but it caused the death of the Father of Common Schooling.

Fantasmagorie

The very first animation from 1908 that would inspire the cartoons we know and love today.

Outlets

They charge everything.

gobble gobble

A Thanksgiving Plate of Laughs

1. Where do turkeys go to dance?
2. If you feel scared on Halloween and jolly on Christmas, how do you feel on Thanksgiving?
3. What's the main difference between Thanksgiving and April Fools' Day?
4. What kind of music did the Pilgrims like?

5. I can be hot or cold and made with fruit, vegetables, or meat. But either way, on a Thanksgiving table, I will be a treat. What am I?

The Hidden Lore Behind Minecraft

Ethan L.

Minecraft is an incredibly big game, but it doesn't really have an established story. The developers behind the game are genius with adding hints, and signals towards what it could be. The lore is mostly up for interpretation, but here is the most popular opinion that I have heard, which I couldn't agree with more.

Back at the beginning of Minecraft, there was a race of ancient builders. They were the ones responsible for villages, desert temples, and all structures in general. Although when they first arrived in the world, they quickly starved to death. Not all of them though, as a duo had discovered how to eat and they survived. Those dead people became Zombies and Skeletons as we see them today. A few also died to extreme cold and dehydration, so that is where the Strays and Husks originate from.

The remaining people of the ancient race constructed a village in order for them to survive. They made farms, houses, discovered tools, and more. They also created robots, now known as villagers. They were pure profit machines, so they did NOT have good deals. But one day, they ALL got infected by the dead people.

The cleric of the village, a man named Brew, discovered potions. He had the genius idea of throwing potions at the zombies, and it did barely anything. He was knocked to his feet and threw everything he had at them, including a golden apple. By doing that, it cured the infected villagers. After Brew had saved the village, they rewarded him by giving him deals on the villagers.

Next, they discovered the power of the Nether Portal. One person was just making a doorway, but wasn't satisfied with it. They lit it on fire, and the portal opened! When he went through, he was instantly bombarded with mobs. More specifically Withers. His partner followed him through, and saw no threats. All he saw was a piece of brown sand, with faces inside of it. He took it home, and discovered that he could run on it to produce blue particles, with a very specific enchantment. Pretty soon, more and more people started going into the nether.

Although after seeing all of the Withers roaming around, they decided it would be a good idea to create a Fortress. It was completely immune to Wither blasts, and offered plenty of protection while they attempted to produce more potions.

Another set of people brought pigs into the Nether, and built a giant black structure to protect them. They needed food after all. But that place was bombarded by hoglins, a hostile mob in the Crimson forests. The Hoglins carried a disease with them which infected every single pig and made them humanoid. They also killed off the humans. But the infected pigs felt a sudden urge to collect gold from the nether. They went around, finding that they could see most gold in the crimson forests. They put loot into their Bastion Remnants, while killing players and collecting their soul sand for nether wart. That's the end of this segment, but in December, I will continue telling you the story...

If you've read through this, you probably like minecraft. So why not join a server? It's open to all of Harrington! Here is the discord invite for the server: <https://discord.gg/Mz8ysBUC>.

Anyone playing Java, Windows 10, and Pocket Edition can join. If you don't have discord, just email me at either eleitinger096@mtlaurelschools.org, or nixgaming69@gmail.com.

Watch Google Translate Get Weird

By Lila T.

People all around the world use a translator built into Google in order to communicate with others from around the world. Google Translate. I've used it, you've used it. The thing about it is, a robot can't understand the context of a conversation, or several nuances in a language. To showcase how awkward Google Translate can be, we put a simple phrase through several different languages and then back to english.

What phrase was this? I took a sample from this article. "People all around the world use a translator built into Google in order to communicate with others from around the world." Let's watch this get interesting.

To start, Spanish said "People all over the world use a built-in Google translator to communicate with other people around the world." A bit less accurate, but not that bad. For the next one, I chose Russian. "People all over the world use the built-in Glasses translator to communicate with other people around the world." Google to glasses. Sure. Let's go with that. After a few more iterations, here is what we have. "People all over the world use built glass to communicate other people around the world." What is our final product? Well, here is the final product. "People around that world uses built glass to communicate with others around the world."

Now, what we are left with, isn't that bad. A couple of years ago, this would have been a lot worse. If you want to see old google translate in action, Google Translate Sings is a fun thing to spend a boring afternoon googling. It's all fun and games until someone tries to talk to someone speaking a different language. You might start having a conversation about glass!

How to feel happy

-Kamryn R.

Feeling down in the dumps?

Probably.

Don't know why?

Nope.

Seasonal?

Depression.

What is seasonal depression?: Seasonal depression or seasonal affective disorder (SAD) is "depression that happens to a person only at a specific time of year. With SAD, a person becomes depressed in fall or winter, when days are shorter and it gets dark earlier." Source:

<https://kidshealth.org/en/teens/sad.html>

Some symptoms of SAD are:

- Mood changes. People with SAD may be more irritable, depressed, or feeling worthless.
- Pessimism. They may tend to look on the downside of things.
- They may have less fun doing things they normally enjoy.
- People with SAD may sleep more than usual, and may have less energy.
- People experiencing SAD may overeat or undereat, overeaters tend to lean towards sugary or comfort foods.

Here are 10 ways to keep yourself feeling good during this Thanksgiving holiday!

1. Get outside. Sunlight is proven to boost anyone's mood.
2. Spend time with people that care and support you, or just people you genuinely enjoy being around.
3. Eat healthily. I know it's hard but it helps to know that you're not putting just anything into your body.
4. Create a base schedule. Put in things you'll look forward to throughout the day. Being organized or just having a physical representation of your day's outline may help just a little.
5. Use aromatherapy. It may sound stupid to some but it helps.
6. Be active. Exercise is good for the reward or accomplishment chemical, dopamine.
7. Take a trip. Going on little adventures or exploring new places gives you a sense of adventure.
8. Start journaling. Having your feelings out on paper really helps. you can even rip it up, burn it, or throw it in a shredder!
9. Take vitamin D supplements. VD deficiency may be a risk factor for depressive symptoms.

10. Don't take your symptoms to heart! If you try to put yourself in a box it may just make you feel worse.

DO NOT self diagnose. Everyone may feel depressive symptoms from time to time, and there are many forms of depression.

If you're like me and know your symptoms are way more than SAD, talk to a licensed professional! They'll be able to get you a solid diagnosis like mine (MDD). I've experienced it and I feel you.

Resources

<https://www.everydayhealth.com/depression/treatment/ways-to-ease-seasonal-depression/>
<https://kidshealth.org/en/teens/sad.html>

Get to Know Your Morning Announcers!

By: Tessa S. and Anika T.

1. Why did you sign up to be a morning announcer?
2. What is your favorite thing to say on the announcements?
3. What is something you would like to say on the announcements?
4. If you could have any superpower, what would it be and why?

Name	Question 1	Question 2	Question 3	Question 4
Cassie Q.	"No one else would do it."	"My friends' names."	"When my friends lose their sports game."	"Invisibility so I could eavesdrop on people."
Ryan S.	"I was bored."	"The long paragraphs."	"I don't know."	"Super speed to get places fast."
Prisha P.	"To have leadership skills."	"Information about the clubs that I'm in."	"How amazing I am."	"Teleportation so I won't be late to school."
Zach S.	"I felt bad for whoever was doing it."	"Save Promise club."	"Whenever Ryan corrects me."	"To fly so I could go to far places."
Hannah B.	"No one else was signing up."	"The new club announcements."	"School is out early!"	"Telekinesis to move stuff around."
Aaliyah B.	"I like public speaking and it helps with stage fright."	"Save Promise club."	To love who you are no matter what people say."	"Teleportation so you can maybe save your life."

National Today: No-Shave November By: Henry N.
1. National Brush Day	14. National Spicy Guacamole Day
National Men Make	15. National Clean Out Your Fridge Day
Dinner	16. National Princess Day
2. National Deviled Egg	17. International Men's Day
Day	World Toilet Day
3. National Sandwich Day	18. National Peanut Butter Fudge Day
4. National Chicken Lady	National Absurdity Day
Day	19. National Gingerbread Cookie Day
6. National Saxophone Day	20. Love Your Freckles Day
7. Zero Tasking Day	21. National Espresso Day
8. National Dunce Day	22. D.B. Cooper Day
9. Chaos Never Dies Day	National Sardines Day
10. Sesame Street Day	23. National Parfait Day
11. National Sundae Day	24. Flossing Day

- | | |
|--|--|
| 12. National Pizza with the Works Except Anchovies Day | 25. Red Planet Day
26. National Lemon Cream Pie Day
27.. National Stay at Home Because You're Well Day |
|--|--|

How To Use Superpowers

Chapter 3- Explanation

By: G.S.

See the last edition of Paw Prints to catch up on How to Use Superpowers 101!

River's POV

The three of them sat at the small, circular table awkwardly. River had a guilty look on their face while Birb and Mae each wore an expression with a mixture of fear and confusion. "Uhhh.. what did you want to talk to us about?" Mae asked nervously.

"Oh, uh, right." River stuttered. "I need to show you guys something." They looked around cautiously before closing their eyes. The world glazed over with a shockingly blue tint. Birb and Mae froze, their faces twisted in confusion. River took a deep breath before getting up from the chair they were sitting in. They made their way over to Mae's part of the table and stood behind them. Then, they closed their eyes and everything went back to normal. Well, as normal as things could be in this situation.

River tapped on Mae's shoulder. Mae spun around in their seat. River was surprised they didn't get whiplash. All the while, Birb was just staring in total shock. "Wh- how- HUH???" Mae managed to stutter out. "YOU CAN TELEPORT???? Aw man that's so much cooler than my power."

"Well no, I can't exactly tele- wait did you say 'my power'?" River asked with a confused look.

"Oh, so I'm not the only one then..." Birb said, still with a shocked expression.

"Wait what?" River asked, trying to make sense of whatever the heck was happening. "Okay one person at a time. Mae, what do you mean?"

"Well, today I was working... and I got writer's block... and then there was fire... from my hands..." They said, recalling what had just happened about thirty minutes ago.

"Okay... so you also have a power. Birb, what about you? I heard you say 'I'm not the only one'."

Birb looked up from staring at his hands. "Uh... I don't remember too clearly but I think I turned into a mouse..." He said casually.

"Okay... so we all have powers. This is a little strange." River said, nodding their head.

"Yeah it seems we do. Riv, what can you do?" Mae asked.

"Well I'm not 100% sure, but I think it's time manipulation. I've figured out that I can make time stop but I'll be aware while it's happening. Like earlier, I closed my eyes after turning off my alarm for about an hour. But, when I woke up, it was still only 6:31. I'm not too sure how to explain it." River said. The others stared at them. "Oh... sorry for going full nerd on you guys." River laughed awkwardly.

"It's alright." Birb assured.

“Yeah. Your power is really cool. So you can move around when time is frozen?” Mae asked. River nodded their head, as if they were an expert on the topic already. “Wait. Can you pull people into paused time with you?”

“I don’t know...” River said, trying to figure out if they could. “Maybe at some point we should figure out how all of our powers work?” They suggested.

“Yeah that would be a good idea.” Birb said. “I need to figure out what I can do.”

“I think I have a spot where we can go.” Mae said, a mischievous look on their face.

.oOo.

Mae’s POV

“Why did we have to wait until two in the morning to go?” River whined. Them, Birb and Mae were walking down a road that looked almost abandoned.

“SHHHH.” Mae warned. “I didn’t want to risk getting caught.” They whispered.

They walked for a few more minutes before stopping in front of a warehouse. “Why are we here?” Birb asked. Mae ignored the question as they searched their bag for something.

“What are you looking for?” River asked. As soon as they had finished the question, Mae found what they were looking for. They took a key out of their bag and started unlocking the door. Birb and River looked at each other before walking through the opened door.

“What is this place?” River cooed in amazement. It really wasn’t anything special. It was mostly an empty warehouse other than a few scattered boxes.

“This is my company’s unused storage room. It’s almost completely abandoned and it’s perfect for us to use.” Mae explained. “So, let’s get to work.”

November Book Review: The Rest of the Story by Sarah Dessen By A.C

A great book I read this month is The Rest of the Story by Sarah Dessen. It is a longer read compared to most other books I’ve read recently, but it incorporates different topics such as family and friendship, which can be enjoyable for a wide range of readers.

The main character in this story is Emma Saylor, a teenage girl who has to live with her mom’s side of the family during her father and her stepmom’s honeymoon due to a sudden change of plans. She immediately is reluctant about going, though as Emma Saylor finally meets so much of her family that she hasn’t ever seen before, she realizes how much her father has kept her from after her mother’s death.

Soon, Emma meets Roo, a boy who was apparently her best friend when she used to visit the lake as a child with her mom. They form a strong bond and Roo becomes Emma’s main love interest in this romance novel. She also meets her cousin, Bailey, and the pair get along quickly and act like sisters. After Emma’s three weeks at the lake are up, she realizes how much she’ll miss her mom’s family and she ends up staying on the other side of the lake with her dad, grandmother, and step-mom, though she isn’t very pleased to go there.

I would give this book a solid 4 out of 5 stars. It is a bit lengthy but the beginning was definitely attention grabbing and keeps readers interested. However, the main problem I had with this story is that right around the middle, it got very boring, and not much progressed in the story and between Emma and Roo. It was difficult to get through some of the chapters in this part of the book. Additionally, the book consisted of roughly 450 pages, but only 24 long chapters. This is a personal preference, but I definitely like a myriad of short chapters better than fewer, lengthy chapters.

Overall, this book was pretty enjoyable to read. I would definitely recommend it to anyone who enjoys the romance aspect of stories, but not to the point that it becomes the main idea. Check it out!

The Secrets Of the Turkey:

The Most Random Facts That Might Make You Think Twice About The Turkey

By: Emily J

Turkeys... You know them, you love them, as the prize of the Thanksgiving dinner table! But what do you not know about these gobbling birds?

Firstly, you know how turkeys "gobble gobble"? Well, only the male turkeys actually gobble. Each male turkey has his own gobble sound that is used to attract potential mates. Turkeys are very social birds, which is why you normally see wild turkeys together, or in a flock. Turkeys are also very sensitive and intelligent, so don't mess with them. Wild turkeys are different from domesticated turkeys because they are considered two of the many different turkey breeds. Wild turkeys can fly, so they tend to sleep in trees. Wild turkeys can fly small distances, and can reach speeds up to 40 to 50 miles per hour. Turkeys are not only smart, but they can see better than humans. In captivity, turkeys can live up to 12 years, and in the wild about 10. An average turkey will lay about 2 eggs per week. Turkeys are mostly scared of loud noises. Wild turkeys have a long list of predators which include raccoons, coyotes, bobcats, skunks, weasels, opossums, and of course, humans! Turkeys kill snakes, so if you have a snake problem, buy a turkey! Sadly, some have short term memory loss so it might not remember to catch them. The president actually chooses two turkeys' lives to be spared, and they get to go enjoy life at a zoo. This tradition started when Abraham Lincoln's son begged for a turkey's life to be spared instead of cooked. As you can see, turkeys can be very fascinating creatures, not just dinner 😊.

A Definitive Ranking of RED (Taylor's Version)

By: Keira M.

Swifties all around the world have been waiting for Red, (Taylor's Version) after Taylor Swift announced she will be rerecording her first 6 albums, and especially after Fearless (Taylor's Version) came out in April. On Friday, November 12th, 2021, Red (Taylor's Version) was officially released. And even though r/alswifties rankings are ever changing, here it is. Ranked.

Ronan (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) will not be included out of respect for the family

...

1. All Too Well (Ten Minute Version) (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 10000000/10 that short film is amazing
2. Better Man (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 100/10 so beautiful
3. Nothing New (feat. Phoebe Bridgers) (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 13/10 PHOEBE. BRIDGERS. GOT. A. VERSE. (that says enough)
4. Treacherous (Taylor's Version) - 10/10 so angelic and better than original
5. All Too Well (Taylor's Version) - 10/10 it's literally all too well.
6. State Of Grace (Taylor's Version) - 10/10 hit harder than the original for sure
7. Begin Again (Taylor's Version) - 10/10 makes me cry every single time
8. Message in A Bottle (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 10/10 blew me away
9. Sad Beautiful Tragic (Taylor's Version) - 10/10 again, i'm crying
10. Come Back... Be Here (Taylor's Version) - 10/10 guess what... crying !
11. Holy Ground (Taylor's Version) - 9/10 beginning doesn't go as hard as the original but still in love with it
12. The Lucky One (Taylor's Version) - 9/10 was expecting more but still loved it
13. I Almost Do (Taylor's Version) - 9/10 i loved it so so much but the 2 above it hold bigger places in my heart
14. Run (feat. Ed Sheeran) (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 9/10 surprised me on how much better it was than i thought it would be
15. The Last Time (feat. Gary Lightbody of Snow Patrol) (Taylor's Version) - 9/10 that beginning is amazing
16. Babe (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 8/10 people hate this but i love it
17. The Moment I Knew (Taylor's Version) - 8/10 just yes but eh but yes but eh
18. The Very First Night (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 8/10 needs some more listens to go higher but still amazing
19. Forever Winter (Taylor's Version) - 8/10 breaks my heart cause i love this but I need to give it more listens
20. Red (Taylor's Version) - 8/10 the amazing title track, but there's just better songs
21. I Knew You Were Trouble (Taylor's Version) - 8/10 a staple but not the best
22. Starlight (Taylor's Version) - 8/10 i wanna dance every time this places but there's just better songs
23. I Bet You Think About Me (feat. Chris Stapleton) (Taylor's Version) (From the Vault) - 7/10 least favorite vault song honestly
24. Everything Has Changed (feat. Ed Sheeran) (Taylor's Version) - 7/10 never my favorite
25. 22 (Taylor's Version) - 7/10 again a staple but not best
26. We Are Never Ever Getting Back Together (Taylor's Version) - 7/10 this ranking hurts my swiftie heart
27. Stay Stay Stay (Taylor's Version) - 7/10 cannot get the chorus out of my head thought
28. Girl at Home (Taylor's Version) - 7/10 this ranking hurts my swiftie ~~heart~~ SOUL
29. State of Grace (Acoustic Version) (Taylor's Version) - 7/10 something had to be last and you already know my true feelings on this song

A Monthly Dose of Mind Combustion

By Daniel P.

*People born in autumn
live longer*

Scientists discovered an organism with a disappearing butt

The Goodyear Blimp is the official bird of Redondo Beach, California.

You can buy a flying bicycle

THE WOOD FROG CAN HOLD ITS PEE FOR UP TO 8 MONTHS

There are sidewalks in the movie Cars.

IN SWITZERLAND, IT IS ILLEGAL TO OWN JUST ONE
GUINEA PIG

*Canada eats more mac
and cheese than any other nation*

The unicorn is the national animal of Scotland

A strawberry is not an actual berry, but a banana is.

Can you read this? If so, it doesn't matter.

Harrington Happenings

What's Happening in Student Council?

By: Anika T.

The Harrington Student Council is busily planning activities for the rest of 2021. On Thursday November 11, 2021, the Harrington family supported Veterans by wearing camo on Veterans Day and made thank you videos to send to local veterans. A canned food drive has been organized to benefit local food banks. Harrington is also having a winter clothing drive from November 29, 2021 to January 7, 2022. They are looking to collect socks, hats, and gloves to donate to Covenant House and VA Clinics in Burlington County. Lastly, in December, there will be a Candy Cane Gram sale in our lunch rooms from November 29th to December 10th. You can purchase a candy cane for $1 and have it sent to a teacher or friend in the building.

Harrington Student Council clothing collections

Socks, Hats, Gloves, Drive

Donating to:
Covenant
House
VA Clinics

Nov 29th - Jan 7th

Mashed Potato Collection

Each year the Mount Laurel School District partners with the Mount Laurel Rotary and Mount Laurel Library to provide December Holiday food baskets for needy families in the district. Students in each of our schools are requested to donate one food item to help make these holiday baskets complete. Harrington Middle School students and staff have been asked to donate one box of instant mashed potatoes. If you can contribute, please bring your box to the Main Office no later than Wednesday, December 15th

Introduction to Posterpreneur

A New Club at Harrington

By E. S., F. W.

Are you interested in graphic design? Do you want to apply that skill in the real world? The Posterpreneur club may be the club for you. In Posterpreneurs, you will learn how to design posters and learn how to sell to customers outside of the school. The club will meet once to twice a month to create and design posters, as well as learning how to sell a product as a business. The club will be run by Ms. Mangla, reach out to her for more information.

Introduction to Teen Science Cafe

Join Teen Science Cafe to do fun experiments and learn about STEM careers. The first Thursday of every month, a guest comes and teaches us about a STEM career and plans interactive experiments for us. We do fun activities while learning something. Snacks are provided and we also give out door prizes at every meet. Meetings are held in B48 (the STEM room) and for more information, see Ms.Ashman or Mrs.Barrett.

Middle School Madness

By: Moxie

November Word Scramble

By Avery G.

yteruk- _____

ofod- _____

lifamy- _____

rbeomvne- _____

ovel- _____

orcn- _____

totopaes- _____

uym- _____

tgoethre- _____

maercia- _____

Answers-
1.turkey-2.food-3.family-4.november-5.love-6.corn-7.potatoes-8.yum-9.together-10.america

R	T	O	N	M	M	C	S	H	D	S
B	T	U	A	E	A	R	T	K	F	P
L	R	T	R	Q	S	A	U	G	I	F
A	I	E	H	K	H	N	F	E	M	H
S	C	K	A	I	E	B	F	O	A	T
D	E	R	T	D	D	Y	I	L	I	I
Y	Y	W	F	K	P	R	N	J	R	J
P	E	A	S	B	O	R	G	Y	O	L
L	O	C	R	E	T	Y	Y	G	N	R
T	D	O	V	A	A	K	S	R	I	F
A	F	R	A	N	T	P	O	R	K	K
D	K	N	S	S	O	I	P	F	P	O
A	T	L	Q	W	S	A	M	L	I	G
D	O	C	P	G	R	A	V	Y	E	T
S	A	U	C	E	H	Y	A	M	S	U

Turkey
Sauce
Gravy
Ham

Mashed Potatoes
Beans
Corn
Stuffing

Pie
Pork
Peas
Yams